

Explore Cu Chi Tunnels & Countryside On Two Wheels

Discover the fascinating Cu Chi Tunnels, the first and longest hand-dug tunnels in Vietnam, created since the 1940s. These remarkable underground passages were ingeniously developed by the Viet Cong (VC) to effectively combat the better-supplied American and South Vietnamese forces during the Vietnam War. Over the years, the VC excavated tens of thousands of miles of tunnels, establishing an extensive and complex network beneath the Cu Chi district, located northwest of bustling Saigon. These hidden corridors served multiple purposes: they housed troops, facilitated the transport of communications and supplies, and enabled the strategic placement of booby traps. After executing surprise attacks, VC soldiers could swiftly retreat to the safety of the tunnels, disappearing from sight. To counter these guerrilla tactics, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces trained soldiers known as “tunnel rats,” tasked with navigating these dark, cramped spaces to uncover booby traps and enemy troops hidden within.

Embark on an exhilarating 1.5-hour scenic drive aboard a private van, get on your MTB, and glide over the serene countryside of the Cu Chi district. As you bike through villages with lush landscapes, take a moment to escape the city's noise and chaos, immersing yourself in the tranquil beauty of local life unfolding along the road. Enjoy a selection of fresh fruits and snacks, complemented by free-flowing, refreshing local beers, water, and soft drinks, for a delightful experience.

Upon arrival at Ben Dinh tunnels after 20-30km, an expert local guide will lead you through the fascinating tunnel system. Trek through the verdant jungle where you can observe natural air vents cleverly designed to mimic termite mounds and ant hills. Feel the thrill of discovering secret tunnel entrances and experience firsthand what life was like for those who lived underground for over two decades. For the adventurous, there's an opportunity to shoot the iconic AK-47 and crawl through the original tunnels, exploring areas such as hidden health bunkers, a clandestine weapon factory, and bustling kitchen spaces that once fed the soldiers. After an engaging exploration, savor the unique flavors of traditional Viet Cong dishes paired with a warm cup of green tea, a perfect way to reflect on your journey before we set off for the 1.5-hour drive back to the energetic city.
