

Saigon Nightlife Jeep Tour

You will be picked up from your hotel lobby or at the port gate at 18:00, ready to embark on an enchanting night adventure in a charming open-roof vintage military jeep. Your journey begins at the majestic former Presidential Palace of South Vietnam, where a knowledgeable guide will share captivating stories about Vietnam's rich history and the resilient lives of the Vietnamese people following the war.

As you explore the area, you'll meander through the serene April 30th Park, leading you to the iconic Notre Dame Cathedral in Saigon, a stunning example of colonial architecture completed by the French between 1877 and 1880. The next highlight will be the Central Post Office, an exquisite structure designed by Gustav Eiffel, renowned for its intricate details and vibrant atmosphere.

Once back on your vintage jeep, you'll cruise along Dong Khoi, the bustling main street, passing by the historic Continental Hotel, established in 1880, and the elegant Opera House, both testaments to the grandeur of Saigon's past. At the Rex Hotel's rooftop, you'll experience the lively "Five O'clock Follies," where you can indulge in a drink of your choice (at your own expense) while overlooking the vibrant cityscape.

Continuing your adventure, you will drive through the old French headquarters in District 3, a district that embodies Saigon's unique lifestyle. Crossing over the picturesque Bason Bridge, you'll be treated to breathtaking views of the nightlife that comes alive, showcasing the radiant city lights reflecting on the waterway. This is the perfect moment to relax and enjoy the refreshing evening breeze, soaking in the dynamic rhythm of street life while savoring an icy cold drink.

Your night tour will culminate in the bustling streets of Chinatown, the second largest in Southeast Asia. Here, you'll witness the vibrant daily life of the local Chinese community, where residents converse in a variety of dialects, including Mandarin, Hakka, and Cantonese. From afar, you'll gaze upon the bustling Binh Tay Market and navigate through narrow lanes brimming with colorful shops selling exotic herbs, gleaming scissors, and sharp knives, each contributing to the rich tapestry of the neighborhood.

Finally, as your adventure draws to a close, you will return to your hotel, filled with unforgettable memories of a magical evening in Saigon.
